Jack went around the block in central London for the second time, holding two pizza boxes in one hand and a smartphone in the other, which he received directions to. On the other side of the line, a young man named Peter was trying to explain to the guy where to turn to find the right office.

A few days before that, Jack had found a company on the Internet that promptly prepared a written job for him. He received a good score and wanted to thank the staff who completed the order, not only with money. In addition, the company's office was in the same city as him.

Peter is not really any Peter. At the time of the transfer of instructions, Sergei's voice that was the name of the guy for real with a barely perceptible shudder was trying to confuse the stubborn client by studying the map of London on Google Maps to leave behind with his pizza. After 15 minutes of walking, Jack gave up and promised to pass on something next time.

Sergey, sitting in the Kiev office of the company near the Palace of Sport metro station, exhaled easily. He was lucky: if the client knew that he had made an order from a Ukrainian company, it would be a serious image blow. And losing reputation in the market is not the best idea.

Sergey's company is engaged in the preparation of written works for students around the world the business of "esseraiting." The main customers of the work are students of Indian and Chinese origin from Europe and the USA. According to the Telegraph, the services of such companies are used by up to 50,000 English students per year. In some US states, this is prohibited and punishable, up to several years in custody. Similar laws in New Zealand the purchase of dissertations is considered a criminal offense. But high profitability and geographical distance is a good incentive to work in this market. There are dozens of such companies in Ukraine. Revenues in the hundreds and even millions of dollars. Per month.

Irina found a job in an organization that is writing an essay on order on the site work.ua. A company called Wentrump needed a person in customer support. The site stated that it was engaged in outsourcing services, the vacancy indicated that it was necessary to communicate with the client nothing special.

At the first interview, the girl was told directly: the company's policy is complete confidentiality. And you need to either agree or go to another place. But to refuse because of such a trifle from convenient shift schedules and a salary of 400, Irina did not: attracted the opportunity to work at a convenient time in the office near the metro for the money that was tolerable for Kiev. In addition to the interview came a couple of dozen people. They were selected strictly: colloquial and written tests, checks. In the end, of course, a document on non-disclosure of the specifics of the work.

Minimum - from $ 10,000 per month. If you take the job seriously, you can bring the monthly income to the level of $ 10 million.

Companies like Wentrump, Govitall, Trionika and Uvocorp are writing custom works for people from all over the world. Essays, essays, dissertations and even dissertations anything. You only need to pay. Companies have a whole staff of freelance writers, a support department, managers, etc. Separate side technical developers who work on a constant stream of customers for the company.

Three weeks later, she began work the order processing manager. Her task was to communicate with the client, take payment for the work done and receive feedback, solve emergency situations.

The main requirement for such managers is good English, so that the customer does not understand that someone from the CIS countries speaks to him. This adds credibility to how well the work will be done. After all, she will be checked in schools, colleges and universities by professional teachers. How legal is this?

Such organizations work with the statement that all the work performed is of an advisory nature and the student should use the material prepared for him before the delivery solely as a base. But, obviously, the completed order student or student carries it directly to the table to his teacher. Therefore, it is important that there is no plagiarism inside, and the information is close to the truth.

No one undertakes to check the creative: it's hard to imagine that a Ukrainian, Filipino or Malaysian student writing several essays a day will give out one masterpiece after another. Some companies use the services of African contractors to solve simple tasks they search for information on the Internet, then read the texts using spelling services like Grammarly, and give them to clients. Customers who can ask for a two-hour report to prepare a 10-page report are sympathetic to quality, and accept works even with stylistic flaws.

Most of the customers are Chinese. Arriving to study in another country, they are not always ready to show particular diligence and learn by the rules. Pay attention to those who live in Ukraine: they speak very weak English with others, communicate with each other only in their native language. Also States: study is not easy for everyone, but to have time for parents to spend money on expensive purchases and
